

ABOUT THE AUTHORS

Kate Scharff, MSW is a clinical social worker with over 20 years of experience working with individuals, couples, and families. She received her graduate degree from the Columbia University School of Social Work and her psychotherapy training at the Institute for Child, Adolescent and Family Studies in New York City and the International Psychotherapy Institute in Chevy Chase, Maryland, where she is on the faculty. Ms. Scharff is a founding member and president-elect of the D.C. Academy of Collaborative Professionals, serves on the faculty of the Collaborative Practice Training Institute, and is a co-founder and principal of the Collaborative Practice Center of Greater Washington. She is a member of several other professional organizations, including the International Academy of Collaborative Professionals, the Maryland Collaborative Practice Council, and the Montgomery County Divorce Roundtable (of which she is President-Elect). Ms. Scharff has taught widely on psychodynamic psychotherapy, divorce, and Collaborative Practice, and is the author of several articles, book chapters, and the book Therapy Demystified: An Insider's Guide to Getting the Right Help (Marlowe and Co., 2005). Ms. Scharff maintains a private practice in individual and couple psychotherapy, mediation, parenting coordination, and Collaborative Practice, both in Washington, D.C., and in Bethesda, Maryland.

www.katescharff.com

Lisa Herrick, Ph.D. is a licensed clinical psychologist and a founding member of the West Falls Psychotherapy Group in Falls Church, VA. She has worked with couples, families, and children for over 20 years in her clinical practice. She is a former President of the D.C. Academy of Collaborative Professionals (DCACP) and currently serves on their board. She is also a member of Collaborative Professionals of Northern Virginia (CPNV). Dr. Herrick has completed over 65 Collaborative cases on multidisciplinary teams and has worked as a Collaborative Coach and as a Child Specialist. She is a founding member of the Collaborative Practice Training Institute (CPTI) and offers trainings throughout the country in working with high conflict parents and in Collaborative Practice. In August 2010, she opened, with several Collaborative colleagues, the Collaborative Practice Center of Greater Washington, a place where attorneys, mental health professionals, and financial experts can share office space and work together to advance Collaborative Practice in the Washington, D.C., area.

www.lisaherrick.com