

Contents

About the Contributors .....	xiii
Preface .....	xxvii
Acknowledgments .....	xxxii
Foreword .....	xxxiii
Introduction .....	xxxv
Chapter 1
Putting ADR to Work in IP and Technology Disputes:
When and How to Do It .....	1
James F. Davis
Introduction—The ADR Landscape .....	2
I. Overview of ADR Tools .....	3
II. Intellectual Property Infringement Suits .....	5
III. Being a Worthy Advocate in Mediation .....	7
IV. Stumbling Blocks in Mediation Advocacy .....	11
V. Case Histories—Using ADR to Win IP/Technology Disputes .....	15
Conclusion .....	30
Chapter 2
Forward-Looking ADR Agreements—An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth Many Pounds of Cure .....	31
Frank L. Politano
Introduction .....	31
I. Raising the ADR Issue In the Negotiation Process .....	34
II. Selecting Rules and Procedures .....	37
A. Developing Ad hoc Rules for an IP/Technology Dispute .....	37
B. Mediating an IP/Technology Dispute under Established Rules .....	42

	C. Arbitrating an IP/Technology Dispute under Established Rules . . . . .	44
III.	Specifying an ADR Institution . . . . .	48
IV.	Customizing the ADR Clause . . . . .	50
	A. Place (Seat) of the Arbitration . . . . .	51
	B. Selecting the Arbitral Panel . . . . .	53
	1. Background of Panelists . . . . .	53
	2. Number of Panelists . . . . .	54
	3. Selecting Panels . . . . .	55
	C. Scope of Disputes Covered . . . . .	57
	D. Language of the Arbitration . . . . .	59
	E. Choice of Law in the Arbitration . . . . .	60
	F. Time Limits . . . . .	62
	G. Information Exchange . . . . .	64
	H. Award of Costs, Fees, and Damages . . . . .	67
V.	Necessity Is the Mother of Invention—Specialized ADR Provisions . . . . .	67
	A. FRAND Disputes . . . . .	67
	B. Ad hoc Initiatives . . . . .	68
	1. Pre-dispute Resolution Agreement Meets Relationship Building . . . . .	68
	2. Recurring Disputes Involving Telecommunications Competitors . . . . .	72
	Conclusion . . . . .	72
	Appendix: Model Arbitration and Mediation Clauses . . . . .	74

Chapter 3

Early Case Assessment: A Strategic Tool for the Early Resolution and Management of Intellectual Property and Technology Cases . . . . .85

Cynthia Raposo and Harrie Samaras

	Introduction . . . . .	85
I.	Early Case Assessment . . . . .	86
	A. What Is ECA? . . . . .	86
	B. Why Use ECA? . . . . .	87
II.	A Framework for Performing ECA . . . . .	88
	A. Steps to Consider for an Early Case Assessment Analysis . . . . .	89
	B. ECA Detailed Analysis . . . . .	91
III.	Post-Resolution: Loop-Back Process (“Prevention”) . .	129

IV. ECA Executive Summary .....130
 Conclusion .....130
 Appendix: CPR’s ECA Toolkit .....132

Chapter 4

Initial Damages Assessments: Focusing Early on Things that Count but Cannot Be Counted .....155

Carol Ludington

Introduction .....155
 I. What Is an Initial Damages Assessment? .....156
     A. Address Key Damages Considerations .....158
     B. Estimate Realistic Damages Magnitudes .....159
     C. Inform Settlement and Dispute Strategies .....160
     D. Enable Focused, Efficient Discovery .....161
     E. Improve Quality .....162
 II. The IDA Process .....162
 III. Other IDA Applications .....165
 Conclusion .....170

Chapter 5

Mediation: One Judge’s Perspective (or Infusing Sanity into Intellectual Property Litigation) .....171

Magistrate Judge Mary Pat Thyng

Introduction .....172
 I. What Mediation Really Is .....176
 II. The Other ADR .....178
 III. Why Mediation in IP Cases? .....179
 IV. Timing Is Everything .....181
     A. Early Information Exchange .....181
     B. Identify Blocking Issues Early .....181
     C. Early Reality Check .....183
     D. Sufficient Time to Settle .....183
     E. Investigate and Pursue Options .....183
     F. Concerns about Early Mediation .....184
 V. The Fifth “P”: Don’t Prejudge the Case .....185
 VI. Jump-Starting the Process .....187
 VII. Working with the Mediator .....188
 VIII. Preparing for Mediation .....189
     A. Initial Conferences .....189
     B. Whom to Include (or Exclude) .....193

C. Preparing an Effective Mediation Statement . . . . .196

D. Counsel’s Homework before the Mediation
 Session . . . . .199

E. Making the Most of the Mediation Session . . . . .201

IX. Closing the Deal . . . . .204

Conclusion . . . . .204

Chapter 6

Preparing to Successfully Mediate Intellectual Property and Technology Disputes: A Guide for Counsel and Clients . . . . .205

Kevin Rhodes

Introduction . . . . .205

I. The Case for Mediation . . . . .206

A. Leveraging a Mediator’s Skills and Neutrality . . . . .207

B. Gaining a Greater Range of Outcomes . . . . .207

C. Protecting Sensitive Information . . . . .208

II. In the Beginning, There Was the Business
 Objective . . . . .208

III. Timing and Strategies—Sooner or Later? . . . . .209

A. Bridging the Information Gap . . . . .209

B. Managing the Message . . . . .211

C. Avoiding the Preemptive Strike . . . . .211

D. Case Events . . . . .214

E. Party Events . . . . .215

IV. Practical Considerations for Selecting a Mediator . . . . .216

A. Training and Experience . . . . .217

B. Mediator’s Approach . . . . .217

C. Experience with the Particular Type of Dispute . . . . .217

D. Experience in the Particular Technical Field . . . . .218

E. Personal Style . . . . .218

F. Experience with Complex Cases . . . . .219

G. Teachings about Mediation . . . . .219

H. Mediator’s Work Ethic . . . . .219

I. Paying the Mediator . . . . .220

J. Success Rate . . . . .221

K. Amenability to Travel . . . . .222

V. After Selecting the Mediator . . . . .222

VI. Location, Location, Location . . . . .223

VII. Structuring the Mediation—Format and Length . . . . .	225
A. Session Length . . . . .	225
B. Session Format . . . . .	226
C. Decision Maker . . . . .	227
D. Confidentiality . . . . .	228
E. Ground Rules . . . . .	228
VIII. Preparing for a Case Dispositive Event . . . . .	228
A. Selecting the Negotiation Team: Who Belongs? . . . . .	229
B. Getting Down to Business . . . . .	233
C. Preparing the Mediation Statement—Strategies and Considerations . . . . .	243
D. Preparing the Opening Statement: What Information Should Be Conveyed? . . . . .	245
IX. The Devil Is in the Details . . . . .	246
Conclusion—A Final Thought About the Long View . . . . .	249

Chapter 7

Advocacy in IP/Technology Mediations: Design, Preparation, and Strategy . . . . .	251
Merriann Panarella and Harrie Samaras
Introduction . . . . .	251
I. Strategic Considerations in Deciding to Mediate . . . . .	253
A. CPR’s Mediation Screen . . . . .	253
1. Factor 1: The Parties’ Goals for Managing a Dispute . . . . .	253
2. Factor 2: The Suitability of the Dispute for Mediation . . . . .	255
3. Factor 3: The General Benefits of Mediation . . . . .	255
B. A Candid Discussion about the Costs of Litigation . . . . .	256
II. Getting to the Mediation Table . . . . .	257
A. A Policy and/or Business Approach . . . . .	257
B. Court Involvement . . . . .	259
C. Litigation Events . . . . .	260
III. Selecting a Mediator . . . . .	261
A. Threshold Issues . . . . .	262
B. Criteria for Selection . . . . .	262
C. Mediation Style and Process . . . . .	264

IV.	Pre-mediation Joint Conference Call .....	267
V.	Preparing for Success .....	270
	A. Counsel Preparation .....	271
	B. Preparation of the Party Representative .....	273
VI.	Written Submissions .....	280
	A. Exchanged Submissions .....	280
	B. Ex Parte Submissions .....	282
	C. Pre-mediation Session Calls .....	284
VII.	The Mediation Session .....	284
	A. Joint Sessions .....	285
	B. Caucusing .....	290
	C. Dealing with Slowdowns in Progress .....	292
	D. Memorializing the Agreement .....	294
	Conclusion .....	295
	Appendix A: CPR Mediation Screen Questions Worksheet ...	296

Chapter 8

The Skillful Appellate Mediation Advocate: Mediating Intellectual Property Cases at the Federal Circuit ....301

J. William Frank and Harrie Samaras

	Introduction .....	301
I.	Background of the Federal Circuit’s Mediation Program .....	302
II.	Benefits of Patent Mediation at the Appellate Stage ...	303
	A. Appellate Mediation—Why Is It Worth the Parties’ Time? .....	303
	B. Managing Relative Costs .....	306
	C. Preserving, Enhancing, and Developing Business Relationships .....	307
	D. Avoiding Unpredictable Results—Certainty .....	308
	E. Maintaining Privacy—Confidentiality .....	309
	F. Achieving an Efficient Resolution—Timeliness ...	310
	G. Achieving a Global Resolution of Multiple Litigation/Multiple Parties: It Is Not Just the Federal Circuit Appeal .....	312
III.	What Advocates Need to Know About the Mediation Process—from Docketing to Mediation .....	312
	A. What Is “Mandatory” about Mandatory Mediation? .....	312

B. Docketing Statements .....	313
C. Review of Rulings on Appeal .....	315
D. Preliminary Discussions with Counsel .....	315
E. Scheduling .....	315
F. Appointing the Mediator .....	316
G. Preparing the Confidential Mediation Statement ..	317
H. The Mediation Session .....	318
I. Subsequent Sessions .....	321
J. Dismissal of Panel Decision .....	322
K. Do Not Try to Predict Settlement .....	322
IV. Practice Tips for Effective Appellate Mediation .....	324
A. Effective Practices .....	324
B. Ineffective Practices .....	326
C. Why Mediation Skills Matter .....	327
Conclusion .....	328
Appendix A: Appellate Mediation Program Guidelines .....	329
Appendix B: Docketing Statement .....	334

Chapter 9

The USITC: An Alternative Approach (Not Just an Alternative Forum) for Resolving Intellectual Property Disputes .....	337
Hon. Theodore R. Essex, Lisa R. Barton, and James R. Holbein
I. Overview of the Commission—An Alternative Approach for Resolving IP Disputes .....	338
II. How Did We Get Here? The Legislative Development of Section 337 .....	340
III. Section 337 Practice .....	344
IV. Points for the Bar to Consider in USITC Practice .....	344
V. Section 337 Mediation Program—An Alternative Approach to Trial at the Commission .....	350
VI. Advantages of the Mediation Program—Resolution and Case Management .....	350
VII. Factors to Consider In Mediating Section 337 Cases ..	352
Conclusion .....	354

Chapter 10

Arbitrating Technology Cases: Considerations for Businesspeople and Advocates .....355
Michael H. Diamant, Stephen P. Gilbert, Laura A. Kaster, and Harrie Samaras

Introduction .....355

I. Considerations When Using Arbitration in IP/Technology Cases .....356

II. Selecting a Panel .....359

III. What Can the Panel Do?—Sources of Arbitral Authority .....363

IV. Privacy and Confidentiality—A Distinction with a Difference .....367

    A. Introduction .....367

    B. Maintaining Privacy and Confidentiality in Arbitration .....368

        1. Privacy of the Hearing .....368

        2. Confidentiality Obligations of Participants .....369

        3. Preserving Confidentiality in a Scheduling Order, Confidentiality Order, or Terms of Reference ...372

    C. The Problem of Potential Disclosure in the United States .....373

    D. State Law Variances Regarding Confidentiality ...376

    E. The Patent Act Requirements under Section 294 ...376

    F. Considerations for Practitioners .....377

V. Process Considerations and Strategies .....378

    A. Addressing Early, Certain Issues Related to Arbitration Provisions .....378

        1. Unworkable Provisions .....378

        2. Ineffective Provisions .....379

    B. Setting the Stage and Establishing Credibility Early .....380

        1. Just the facts . . . .....380

        2. Avoid Proliferating Claims and Defenses .....381

    C. The Preliminary Hearing and Beyond—Fit the Form to the Function for a Sensible Arbitration ...382

        1. Preparation, Conduct, Strategy .....383

        2. Know the Governing Rules .....385

        3. Bifurcation .....386

        4. Is This a Case for a Tutorial? .....387

5. Can This Case Be Arbitrated Site Unseen? . . . . .	388
6. Information Exchange (aka Discovery)? . . . . .	389
7. Protective Orders . . . . .	393
8. Motions in Arbitration . . . . .	394
9. Pre-hearing Briefs . . . . .	399
10. Witness Disclosures . . . . .	401
VI. The Evidentiary Hearing . . . . .	402
A. Exhibits . . . . .	402
B. Opening Statements . . . . .	405
C. Testimony . . . . .	406
1. General Guidance . . . . .	406
2. Expert Testimony . . . . .	407
D. Using Depositions . . . . .	410
E. Decorum, Rhetoric, and Drama at the Hearing . . .	410
F. Post-hearing Briefs . . . . .	411
G. Post-hearing Closing Arguments . . . . .	412
H. Awards . . . . .	413
Conclusion . . . . .	416
Appendix: Preliminary Hearing Topics . . . . .	417

Chapter 11

UDRP Proceedings—How Advocates Can Put Their

Best Foot Forward . . . . .421

Dina Leytes and Harrie Samaras

Introduction . . . . .	421
I. History and Purpose of the Uniform Domain Name Dispute Resolution Policy . . . . .	422
A. The Internet and Trademarks . . . . .	422
B. What Is a Top Level-Domain, and What Purpose Does It Serve? . . . . .	423
C. Creation of ICANN and the Policy . . . . .	424
D. The Limited Scope of the Policy . . . . .	425
E. How the Policy Is Enforced . . . . .	426
II. Prosecuting and Defending a UDRP Case . . . . .	427
A. What Does the Trademark Owner Need to Prove under the Policy? . . . . .	427
B. How May the Respondent Respond under the Policy? . . . . .	430
C. Remedies under the Policy . . . . .	432
D. Availability of Court Proceedings . . . . .	433

- III. The Key Elements of a Successful UDRP Proceeding—
  - Preparation and Advocacy .....435
    - A. Resources .....435
    - B. Marshaling Evidence—Building a Case
      - Foundation .....437
    - C. Thorough Case Advocacy .....443
    - D. Bad-Faith Registration and Use .....449
    - E. One or Three-Member Panel—Strategic
      - Considerations .....451
    - F. Use of Legal Counsel .....453
  - IV. Mechanics of Bringing and Defending a UDRP
    - Proceeding .....453
      - A. Overview of Five Basic Stages of a UDRP
        - Proceeding .....453
      - B. WIPO’s Model Complaint .....454
      - C. WIPO’s Model Response .....455
      - D. Supplemental Pleadings .....455
      - E. Procedural Considerations .....456
        - 1. Language of Proceeding .....456
        - 2. Consolidation .....457
        - 3. Refiling .....457
        - 4. Settlement during Proceeding .....458
- Conclusion .....459

Chapter 12

Mastering the Use of a Special Master in Intellectual Property Litigation .....461

Don W. Martens and Gale R. (“Pete”) Peterson

- Introduction .....462
- I. Appointing and Using a Master in IP Cases .....467
  - A. Deciding to Appoint a Master .....468
  - B. Variations on Rule 53 Masters .....473
  - C. Selecting the Master .....474
  - D. What Belongs in the Order of Appointment? ....476
  - E. Preliminary Conference .....485
  - F. Hearing .....486
  - G. Master’s Report .....486
  - H. Preparing Objections to the Master’s Report .....487
  - I. Using a Trial Master .....487

II.	Using a Discovery Master .....	489
	A. Why Use a Discovery Master? .....	490
	B. Using a Master to Expedite Resolution of Discovery Disputes .....	491
	C. Using a Master to Manage Discovery .....	493
III.	Using a Master in Patent Cases .....	493
	A. Using a Markman Master .....	494
	1. Deciding whether to Use a Markman Master ...	494
	2. Deciding when to Appoint a Markman Master ..	497
	3. Deciding what to Cover at the Preliminary Conference .....	497
	4. Deciding what to Include in the Briefing .....	499
	5. Making the most of a Technology Tutorial .....	500
	6. Consider the Benefits of a Tentative Ruling .....	501
	7. Preparing for the Hearing .....	502
	8. Filing Objections to the Markman Master’s Report .....	502
	B. Using a Master for Patent Summary Judgment Motions .....	503
	C. Using a Master for Patent Damages .....	504
IV.	Using a Master in Copyright Cases .....	504
	A. Determining Software Copyright Infringement ...	504
	B. Determining Copyright Infringement in Non-Software Cases .....	506
	C. Determining Copyright Damages .....	506
V.	Using a Master in Trademark Cases .....	507
	A. Determining Exclusion of Survey Evidence .....	507
	B. Determining Likelihood of Confusion .....	508
	C. Enforcing Consent Decrees .....	508
	D. Determining Trademark Damages .....	509
	E. Calculating Attorney’s Fees and Costs .....	510
VI.	Using a Master in Trade Secret Cases .....	510
	Conclusion .....	511
	Appendix A: Order for Special Master .....	512

Chapter 13

Tools Useful to Persuade, Evaluate, and Communicate in ADR Proceedings .....	515
---	------------

Kevin R. Casey

Introduction .....	516
--------------------	-----

- I. Screening Tools .....518
  - A. Overview .....518
  - B. ADR and, If So, Which Type of ADR? .....520
  - C. Selecting the Neutral (Arbitrator, Mediator) .....522
- II. Do We Have A Good Case or What?—Ways for Getting a Dose of Reality .....528
  - A. Reality Testing with a Mock Panel .....528
    - 1. Why a Mock Panel? .....528
    - 2. Considerations when Using a Mock Panel .....529
  - B. An Online Case Evaluation Alternative to In-person Mock Arbitrations .....531
- III. Decision Tree Analysis (DTA) .....532
  - A. DTA Mechanics .....533
  - B. DTA Advantages .....537
    - 1. Evaluation .....537
    - 2. Communication .....538
    - 3. Settlement Negotiations and Mediation Procedures .....539
  - C. DTA Limitations .....540
  - D. Use by Mediators .....542
- IV. Selective Use of Charts, Exhibits, and Other Visual Aids .....547
- V. Algorithms for Fair Division of Property .....553
- VI. Use of Technological Tools .....554
  - A. Using Technology during the ADR Proceeding ...554
  - B. Using Technology to Help Conclude the ADR Proceeding .....555
  - C. The Future .....556
- Conclusion .....557
- Appendix A: CPR Mediation Screen Questions Worksheet ..558
- Appendix B: DTA Applications .....563
- Appendix C: Algorithms for Fair Division of Property & Issues .....569
- Index .....573